

Update from Mr Davda

Now that my second week is coming to a close I'm starting to get into the swing of things here at Corvedale school. It's been wonderful stepping back into a teaching role and getting to know all the students so quickly.

We've got an exciting half term ahead of us, with various different events on the horizon, so please keep an eye on the 'dates for the diary' section.

Next week, Mrs Rook will be taking Class 1 and some of the Nursery pupils out for their first trip to forest school at Millichope. We would be grateful if you could please make sure your child has their waterproofs and wellies in school on Tuesday 17th September in preparation.

We also have the Corvedale Music Festival taking place from 20-28th September, and are hoping to take some of the children over to the church during this period to see a performance.

Don't forget you can double check if your child is entitled to free school meals by using the government website—Please get in touch with the school office if you would like more information.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend—see you Monday!

We had a great day at the Diddlebury Autumn Show last Saturday where the CSA were selling homemade cakes and refreshments with a little help from the Corvedale students too. We are please to announce that we made £185.90 at this event, so well done and thank you to everyone that gave up their time and effort to support the Corvedale School Association.

We also have a total amount raised from last terms Sponsored Walk, which was a very impressive £699.60. Thank you everyone!
