Update from Mrs Rook

It has been lovely to see everyone in non-school uniform today and thank you so much for all your kind raffle donations ready for the draw on Sports Day. This week we are delighted to share that we have created a new sensory space in our nursery. This calm welcoming area has been designed to support children's emotional wellbeing, self-regulation, and sensory development. The space includes a variety of sensory resources which all children across our early years can use when they need a moment to unwind, explore their senses or engage in activities that help them to feel calm and secure. A big thank you to Colin and the team who helped to put it all together! Another big thank you to Seedpips for how wonderful the garden is looking, how nice for the children to experience. Finally, we would like to thank our Special Star this week, Mrs Pyne who has shown incredible kindness and community spirit by volunteering to tidy up our school playground and drive.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend, we look forward to seeing you for another jam packed week on Monday!

Note from the Governors—SIAMS Report

The Governing Body wish to express their thanks to the many people including our children who contributed in anyway to our excellent SIAMS Report. It is a true reflection of the hard, dedicated work that has been put in since our previous inspection and the team work that went into achieving this. A result to be proud of as reflected in Mrs Rook's comments last week.

D. Hedgley—Chair of Governors.
